Foreword

This was a year of restricted activity, a year of high emotion over sports, a year of learning, a year of discovery, a year under new rules, a year with a single lunch hour, another year of crowded conditions, a year without freshmen, a year of shorter school hours, a year of three-minute breaks. This was . . .

A YEAR TO REMEMBER

Through the years Mount Vernon High School has seen many seniors. The Class of "66" will hold a special place in its heart for the school.

A Year of Bewilderment

This year was a year to remember because of bewilderment.

Despite successes and failures, the situation of the Mount Vernon City Schools remained in our minds as the students returned and found old standbys like the Jacket Journal and Pep Club gone and other organizations or activities curtailed.

November gave us a chance to rejoice because an operating levy was passed, but we still had rooms with crumbling walls, water in Room 130, broken A-V equipment, and buses with their motor strength measured in pony-power instead of horse-power.

A few activities were restored, but people realized that they wouldn't be in the Forum. Before Spring, plans for 1966-67 were announced and many realized that the old school would never be the same.

A Year of Hopefulness

The year of 1965-66 was a year of hope because many things occurred to offer changes for the best.

An operating levy was finally passed in November and activities were resumed in many areas.

Under a new administration, tardiness and absenteeism were reduced. Students began to look human again although some continued to let their hair grow to appear as something crawling out of a sewer.

Hope for some of our slower or non-college companions was shown when curriculum changes were announced in various areas.

There was hope when the students realized that the public and school officials would push harder to utilize every inch for an improved school. The students hoped something might get better before it got worse.

Dedication Goes to Houston Schlosser

This year the Forum staff voted the 1966 dedication to Mr. Houston Schlosser.

Mr. Schlosser teaches geometry, but is better known as the basketball coach.

Anyone attending athletic events will find Mr. Schlosser and his enthusiastic Maxine present. The Schlossers have two children, Houston, Jr., who is in the Marine Corps and Karen, who is a freshman at Ohio University.

Mr. Schlosser attended Mount Vernon High School and entered Grove City College; however, his college career was interrupted by World War II. He achieved his B.S. at Ohio Wesleyan. While instructing and coaching at Ravenna, Ohio, he obtained a Master's Degree at Kent State University.

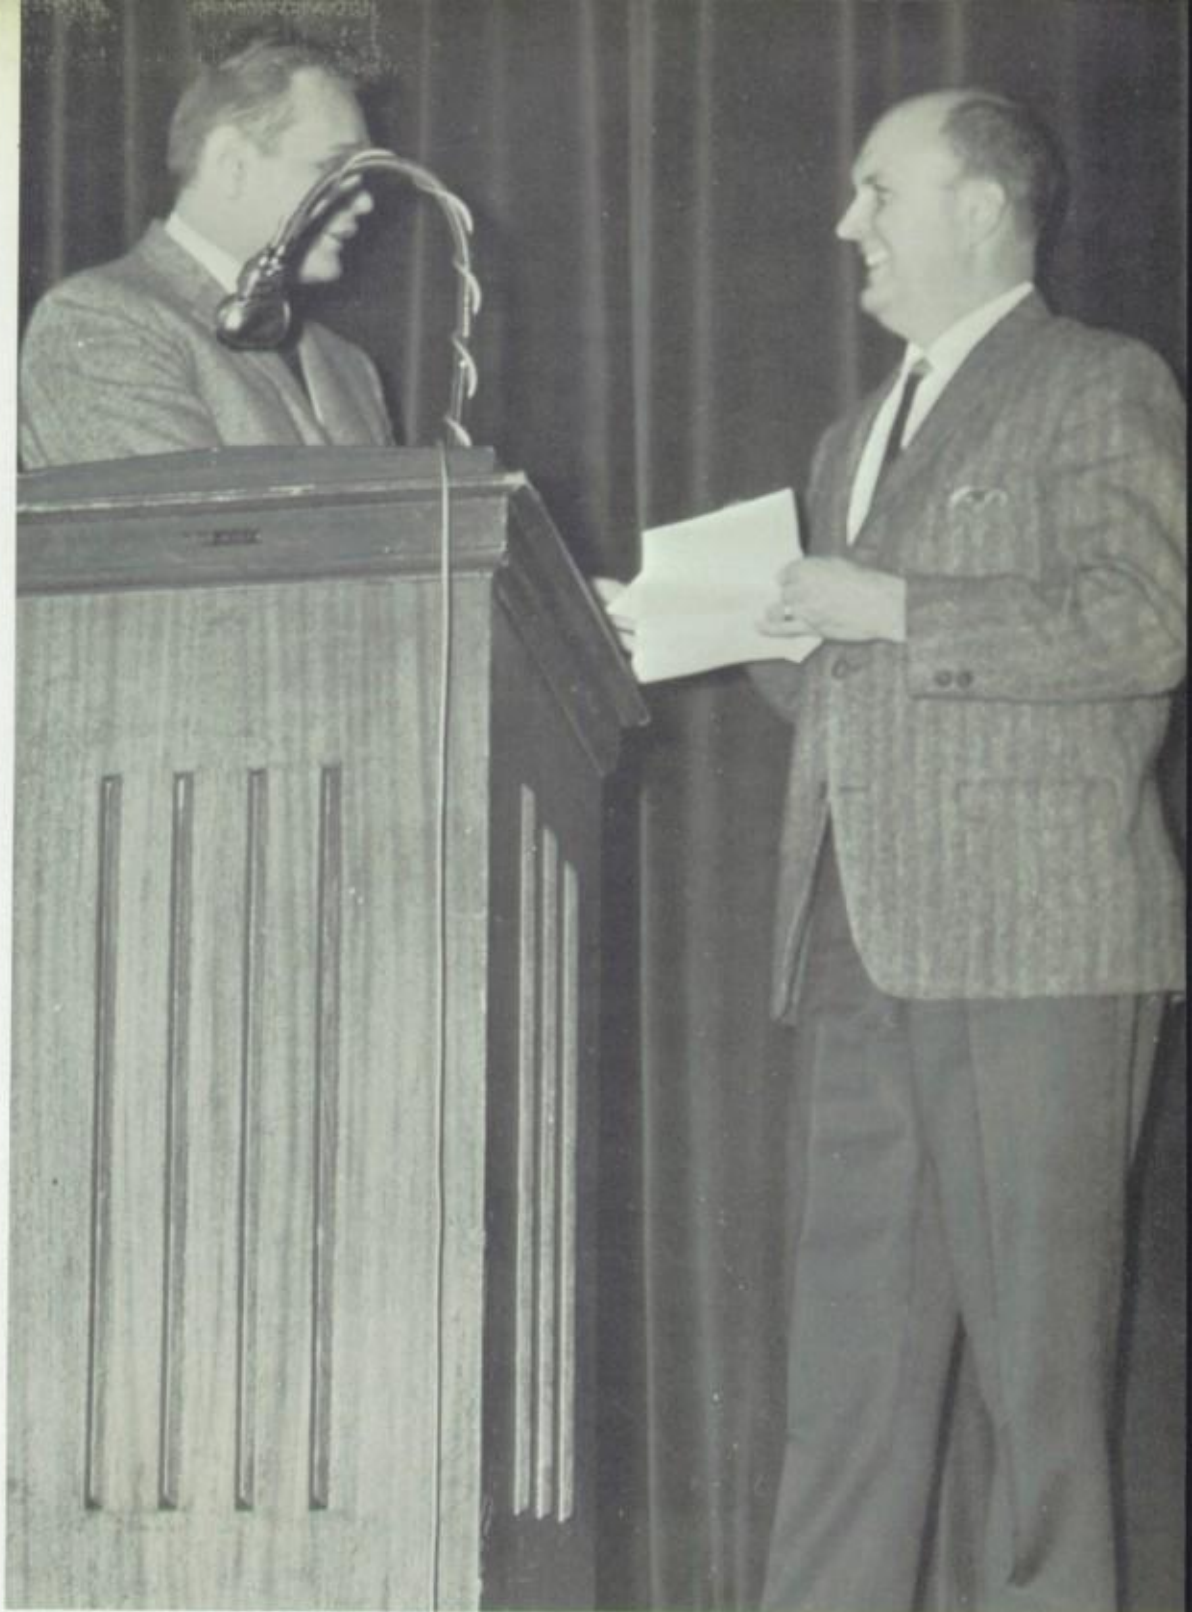

Known for congenial ways Mr. Schlosser gets very enthused during some basketball games. He once lost a filling over yelling.

As a coach, he has had many good players and seasons and in 1964 Mount Vernon shared the Central Buckeye League title with Urbana.

As a teacher he was the lone geometry teacher for many years and has always been held high as a good coach who can instruct.

As he received his Master's at Kent State.

Mr. Schlosser receives dedication from Mr. Odroneic.

Mr. Schlosser in 1941.

His joking manner can be explained by an incident which happened a few years ago.

Playing Bexley Coach Schlosser was miffed by the officials and decided to voice discontent.

He gathered warmup uniforms, towels and whatever he could grasp, started to the Bexley coach and barked, "You might as well have this stuff, you're getting everything else to-night."

Student Life

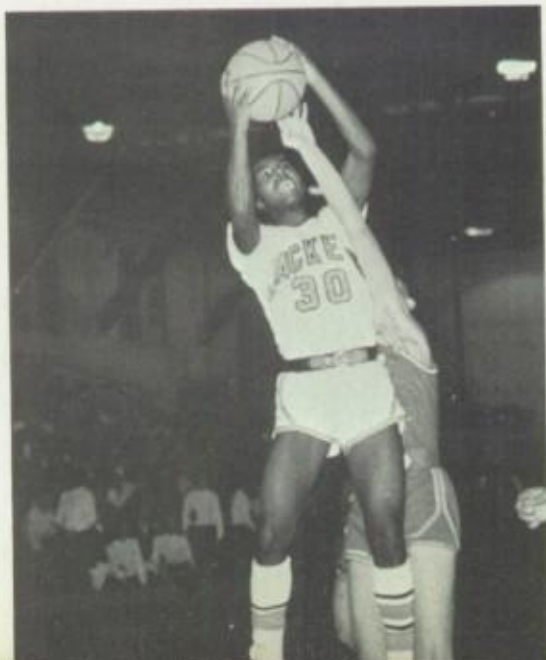

School Life

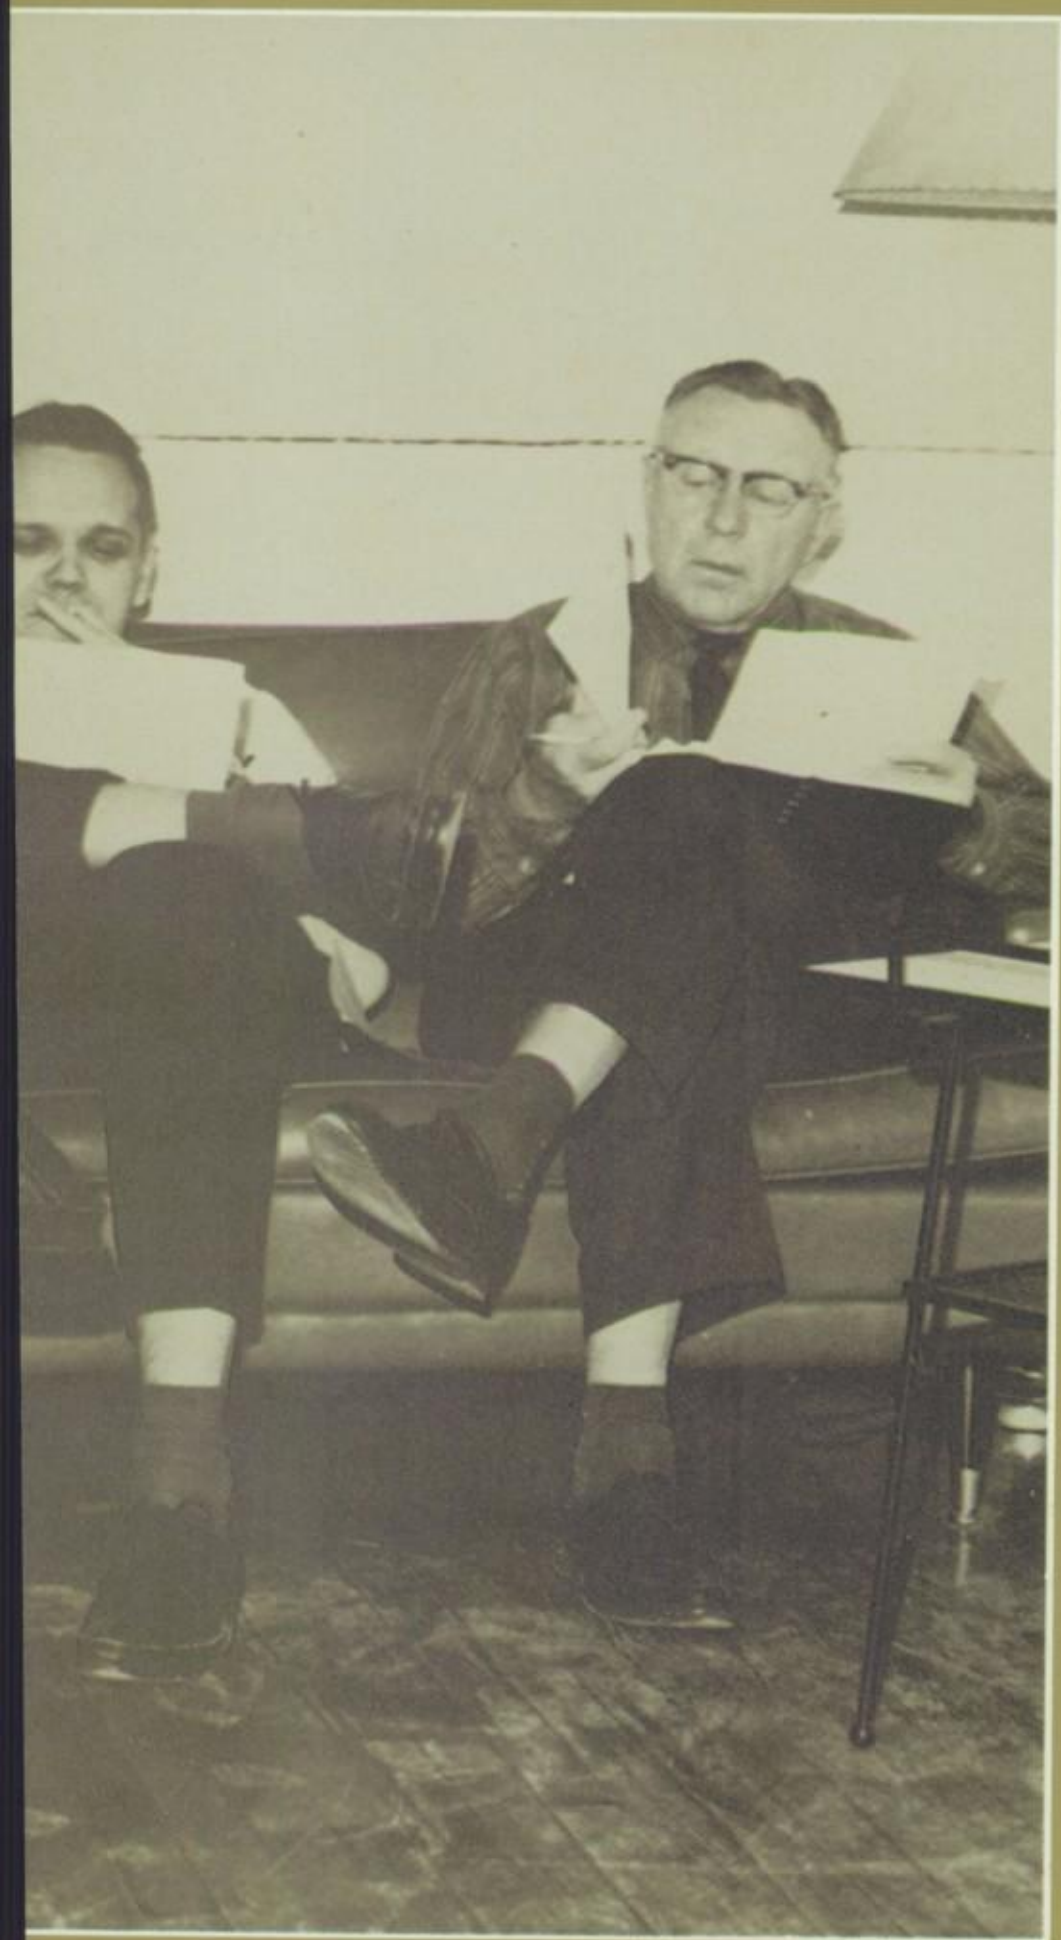

As usual, some of the most exciting or disappointing points of our high school year came at various sporting events.

Despite victory or defeat, many enjoyed and benefited from the athletic program of our school.

The photographs on these pages illustrate the above facts.

Faculty and Administration

Those Issuing School Policy

George Edick and Robert Saunter were elected to the Board of Education when William Ward and Dr. Leroy Prushing retired.

Highpoint of the year was a passing of an operating levy in November.

PRINCIPAL CLIFFORD JUMP

Clifford Jump is a principal that is admired and respected by the student body at Mount Vernon High School. To obtain this admiration he spends a great deal of time working with the faculty and student body. He is a man that always has time to listen and to help students with any problems.

Mr. Jump is an alumni of Ohio State University. While attending Ohio State he began student teaching at Mount Vernon High School. Upon graduation, he moved to Kenton, Ohio, where he taught for three years. He then taught Vocational Agriculture in the Mount Vernon School system for three years before becoming Assistant Principal.

Mr. Jump and his wife, Jean, have four children Greg, Sarita, Steve, and Don. The Jump family spends much of their leisure time in outdoor activities.

The principal's work is never done.

Let's get organized, gang!

Ah, at last,

Hey, what's cooking?

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL OLLIE CLINE

"We have without a doubt the greatest bunch of kids with whom I've ever been associated. They are truly a fine group." These are the words of our assistant principal, Mr. Ollie Cline.

A native of Fredericktown, Ohio, Mr. Cline came to Mount Vernon last year, bearing an abundance of experience in the educational field. He attended Ohio State University for three years, and received his B.S. and Masters degrees from Wittenberg University.

Later he taught at Northeastern High School in Sidney, Ohio, was head coach and athletic director at Prescott High School in Arizona, and Dean of Men at Urbana Junior College.

Mr. Cline was a professional football player four years with the Detroit Lions, one year with the Cleveland Browns, and one year with the Buffalo Bills.

During his first year in Mount Vernon he was freshman guidance counselor and one of the assistant football coaches.

Guidance Personnel

DOROTHY JOHNSON

The guidance department is confronted every year with many problems such as scheduling students for their classes, helping seniors with their days after graduation, and many other problems. The counselors are faced with many of these trying situations year after year but they always seem to come up with the correct answers.

A Faculty Faced With Many Duties

This school year was filled with many problems due to the lack of operating funds. Teachers added extra duties to their busy schedules to keep the school running smoothly. Even with these extra burdens the faculty managed to maintain a close student-teacher relationship and to create, kindle, and motivate student ideas toward higher academic levels.

Custodians and Cooks

Among the hardest working personnel in the school are the cooks and custodians. The custodians are always on the job no matter what the school function may be. And the cooks are faced with the problem of fixing five different meals a week for several hundred students.

It is so nice to see that the faculty gets along well with the cooks.

Curricula

English Teachers Eye Many Ideas

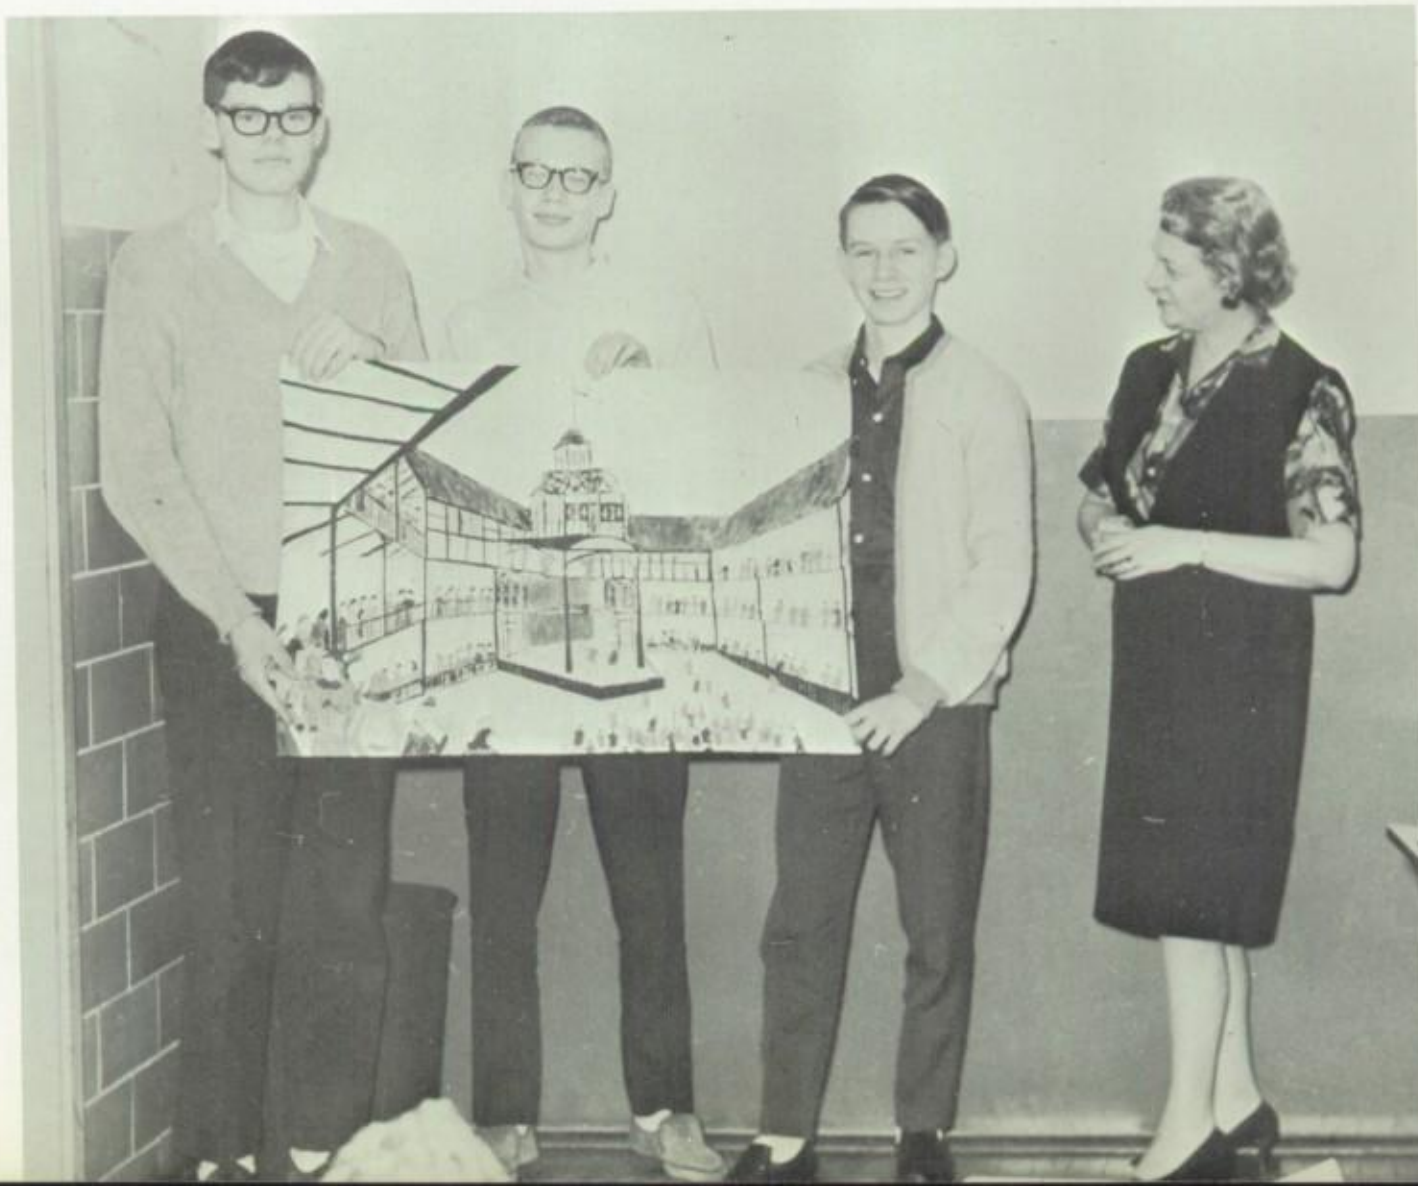

Since all students are required to earn four credits of English for graduation, each teacher has a full teaching load.

During the school year 1966-67, several experimental courses will be introduced at the senior level in order to meet, more adequately, the needs and abilities of the students.

In addition to the regular course work, speech, and journalism are offered to the students. Both of these will be increased under the new curriculum.

Social Studies Has Varied Format

Subjects ranging from evolution to present day world conflicts were studied in the World History classes this year.

In American History there was a thorough study of the American culture from the Colonial period to the present go-go era.

Any student that has had Senior Social Studies now has new awareness of social, economic and governmental affairs.

This year the department was bolstered by the additions of Mr. Odroneic and Mr. Luna.

Math Has Many Facts

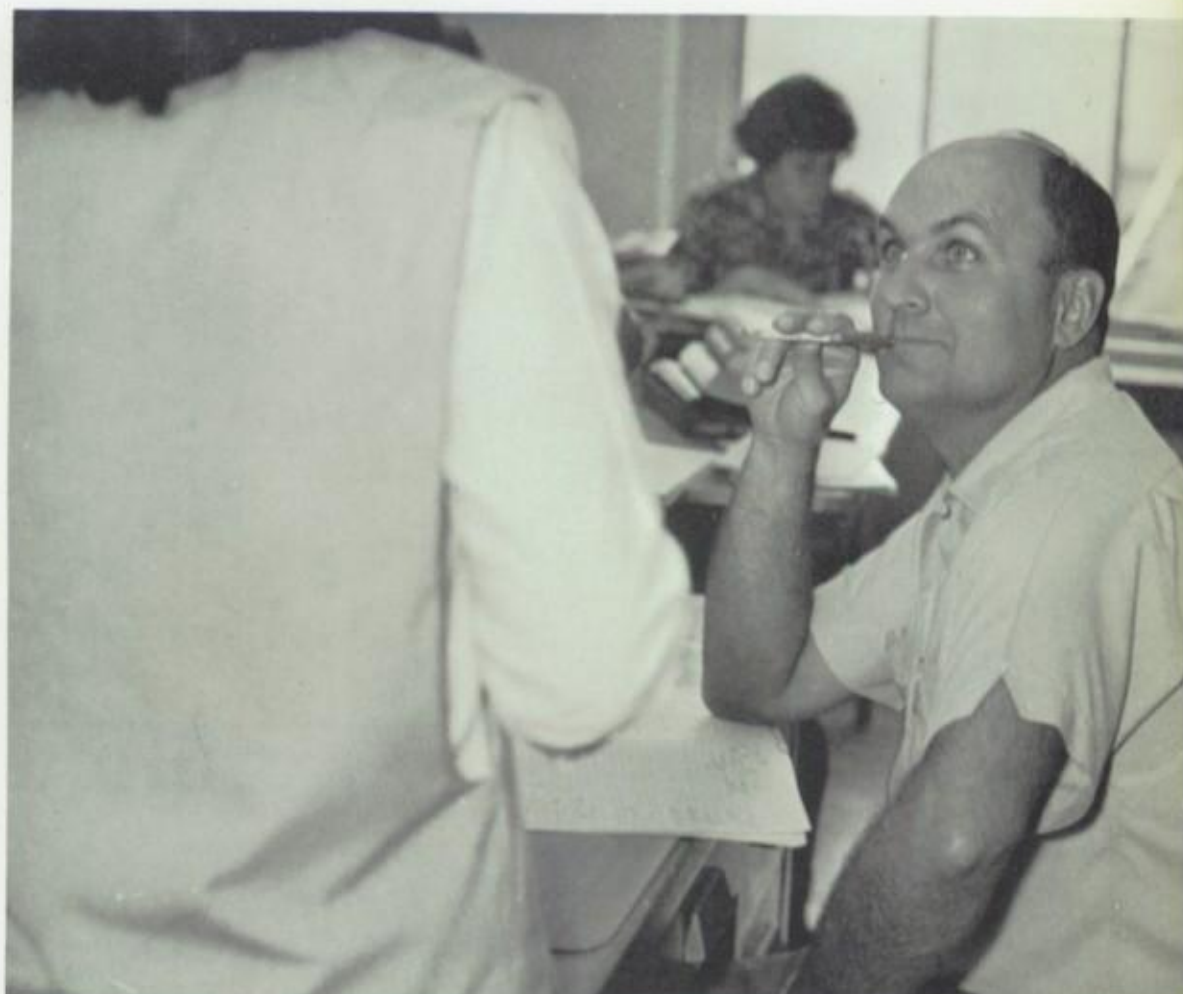

Under the brilliant chairmanship of Mr. Arthur Cassel, the Math Department offers courses in Algebra I and II, geometry, and Advanced Math, which is a combination of calculus, trigonometry, and advanced mathematical theory.

If you don't get the problem right, do you know what will happen?

Mr. Schlosser looks in bewilderment at one of his students.

• Distributive •

VOCATIONAL UNDERSTANDING. The D.E. student, participating in this unique, sound educational program, is well prepared to take his place in the business world. He has acquired a firsthand knowledge of merchandising, salesmanship, and the opportunities available in his chosen career.

CIVIC CONSCIOUSNESS. In both his class and Chapter work, the D.E. student learns to recognize his obligations to the community needs and planning community betterment.

• Education •

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT. Through DECA activities, the DE student is given an opportunity to participate in many activities designed to teach him to be not only a leader but also a follower.

SOCIAL INTELLIGENCE. Through social events held during the year, the DECA member is given an opportunity to develop poise, and to gain a knowledge of the social graces necessary in our society.

Science Offers Many Courses

MVHS students were offered Biology I and II, chemistry, and physics this year.

Under the chairmanship of Jack Robeson the Science Department welcomed one new teacher, Mrs. Auker.

The Biology I students deal with a complete plant or animal and the interrelation of all its organs and life activities. Biology II familiarizes students with the functions of their own bodies and prepares those who are interested for further specialized work in this field.

Physics and chemistry stress descriptive problems of the areas.

Mr. West, Chris Meyer, Dave Wythe, Carol Detmer, St

Ferguson and Hiles seriously work in chemistry class.

Foreign Languages Employ "Atmosphere Learning"

"Atmosphere Learning" was stressed making each room and class the atmosphere of the country studied.

This year the language department stressed continued mastery of the Latin, Spanish and French languages.

New additions to the department included Mr. Thomas Nylund, Spanish, and Mrs. Mary Lou Goodson, French.

Stressing new ideas, the department hopes to introduce more courses and adopt more audio-visual aids next year.

Mrs. Sanner listens to Latin translations.

Willy Ayers shows a friend the Paris sites.

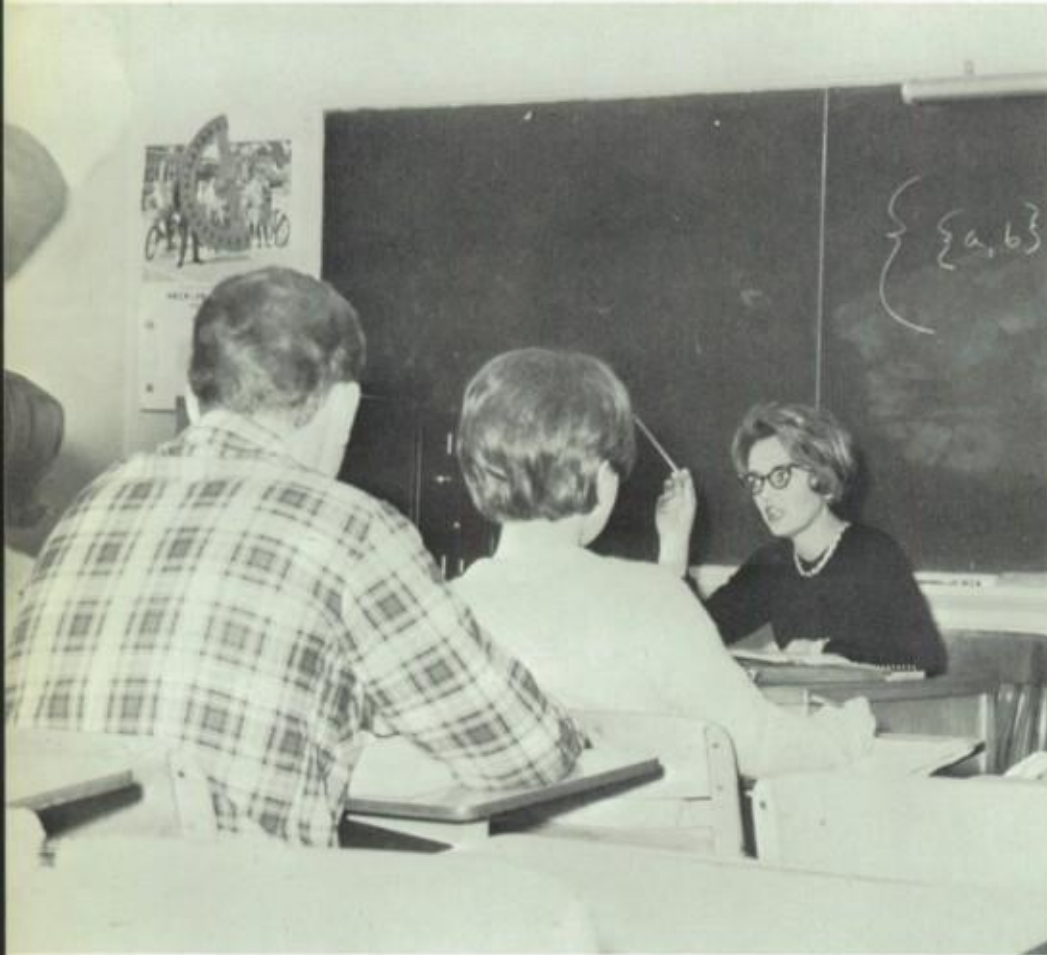

The cast of Mrs. Montgomery's Christmas play poses for camera.

Business Students Keep Busy

The Business Department continues to keep pace with the changing business world of today. This year an elementary office practice class was introduced for juniors, making more study in depth possible for office practice the next year for seniors. Vocational plans are already being studied and formulated for next year. Our motto: The more you learn—the more you earn.

Allan Vernon enjoys his art work.

Fine Arts

Various art courses were offered the students this year.

Art I is a course of problems of basic design.

Art II is a further advancement in the areas covered by Art I.

The student works with problems in design dealing with jewelry, fashion design, silk screen, wood cutting, and advertising, in Art III.

More of a studio type problems of study is in Art IV.

Doug Neese wonders who she could be.

The girls in Home Ec. seem to think the room needs fixing up.

Janet Biefnes is busy as a bee.

Peeling apples is such fun.

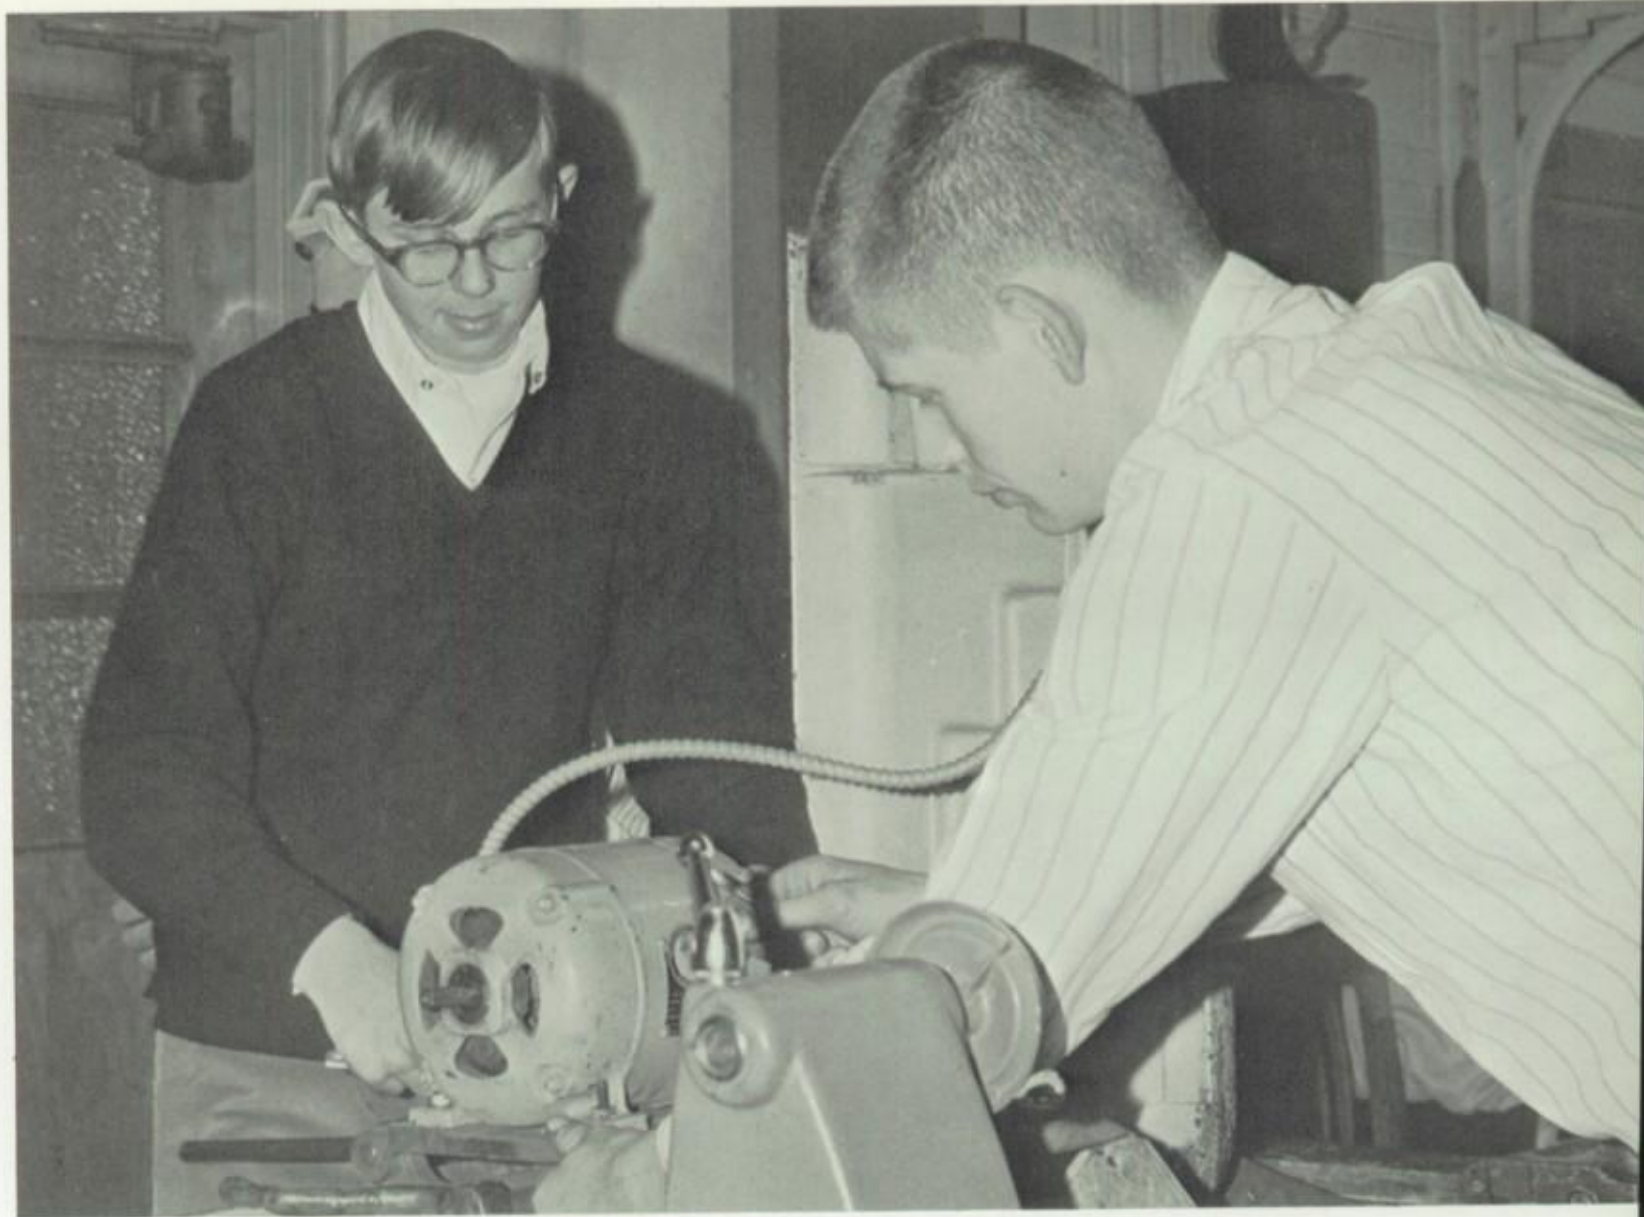

Susan Genre hopes her pie comes out delicious.

Creativity Is Home Economics

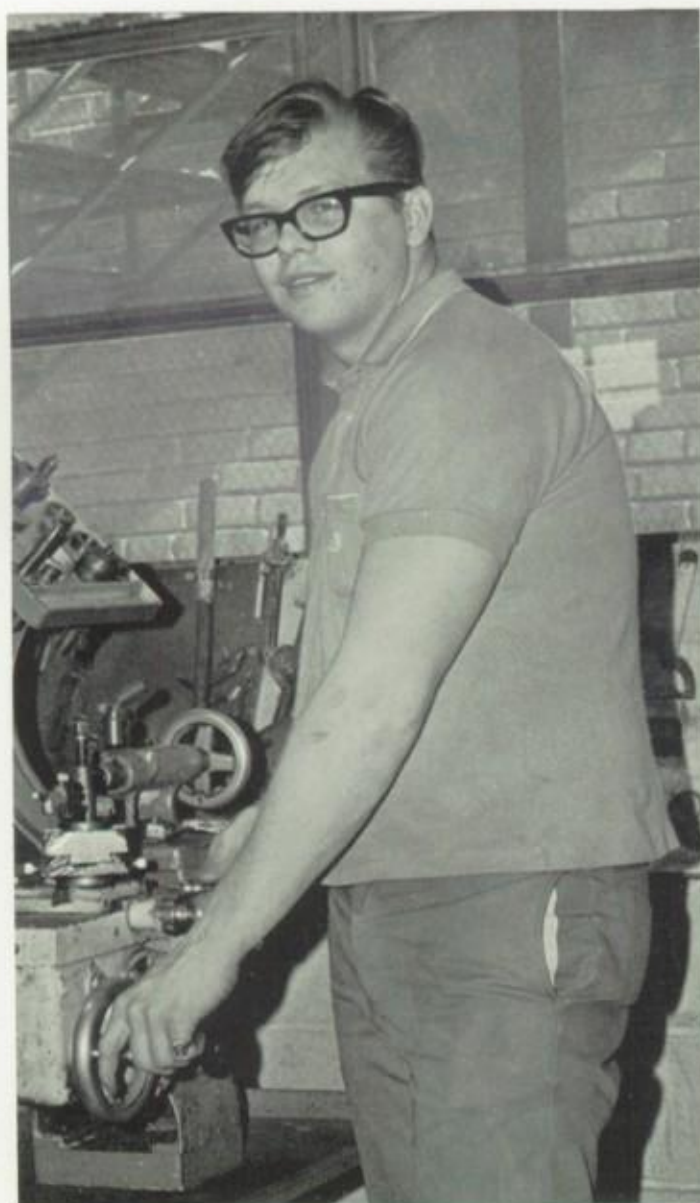

One of the vital aspects of a well-rounded education is educating students in areas of living that are meaningful after graduation. Home Economics fulfills this need with a balanced program that can lead toward a professional career in buying, fashion, teaching, dietetics, extension work, as well as a successful and happy home life.

Mrs. White seems to have a beef.

Dave Doup and Bob Hammond seem to be assisting each other.

Lindsay Vance takes time out from his work to pose for a picture.

Mr. Morrison is busy explaining a project to one of his students.

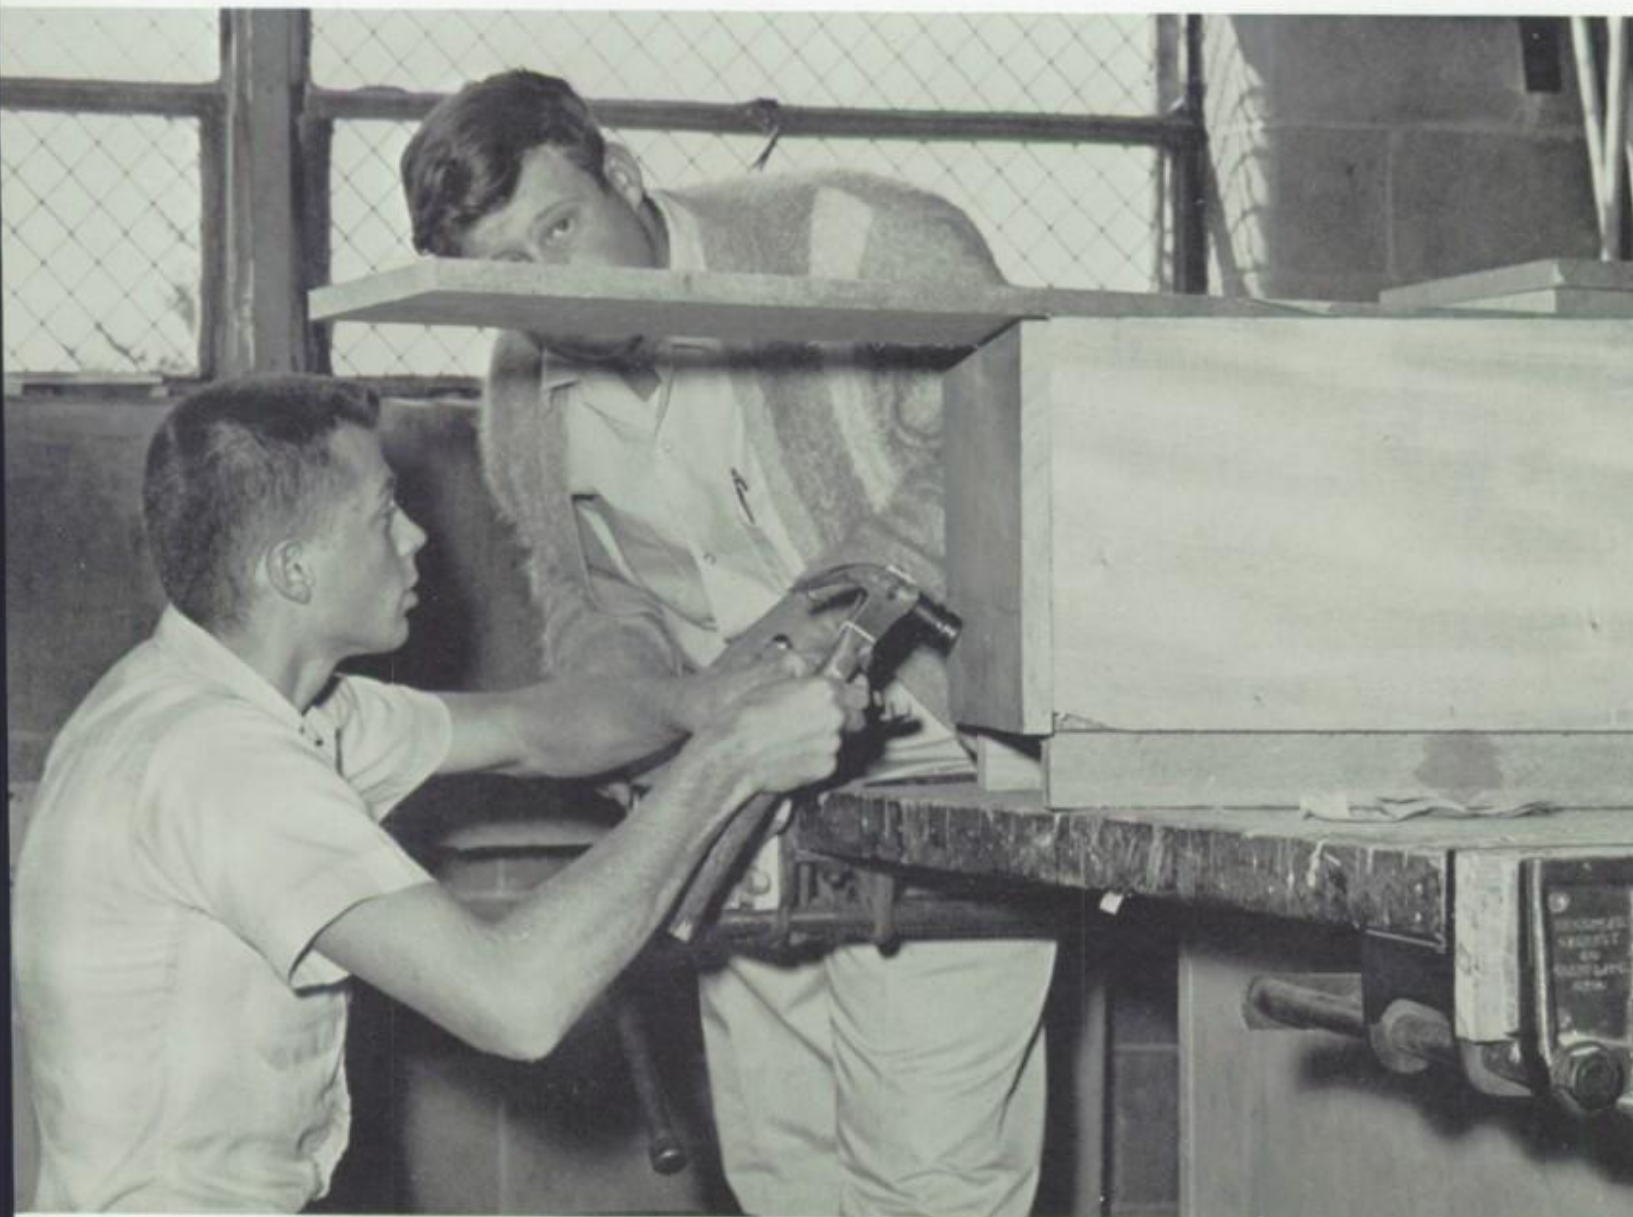

Industrial Arts Contains Many Courses

With a stress on vocational aspects, the Industrial Arts Department offered advanced woodworking, metal and drawing, and a course in engineering drawing.

Pleading for more room, teachers, and equipment, the department plans many changes. Any changes might be altered by a proposed vocational high school.

George Wright is working seriously on his industrial arts project.

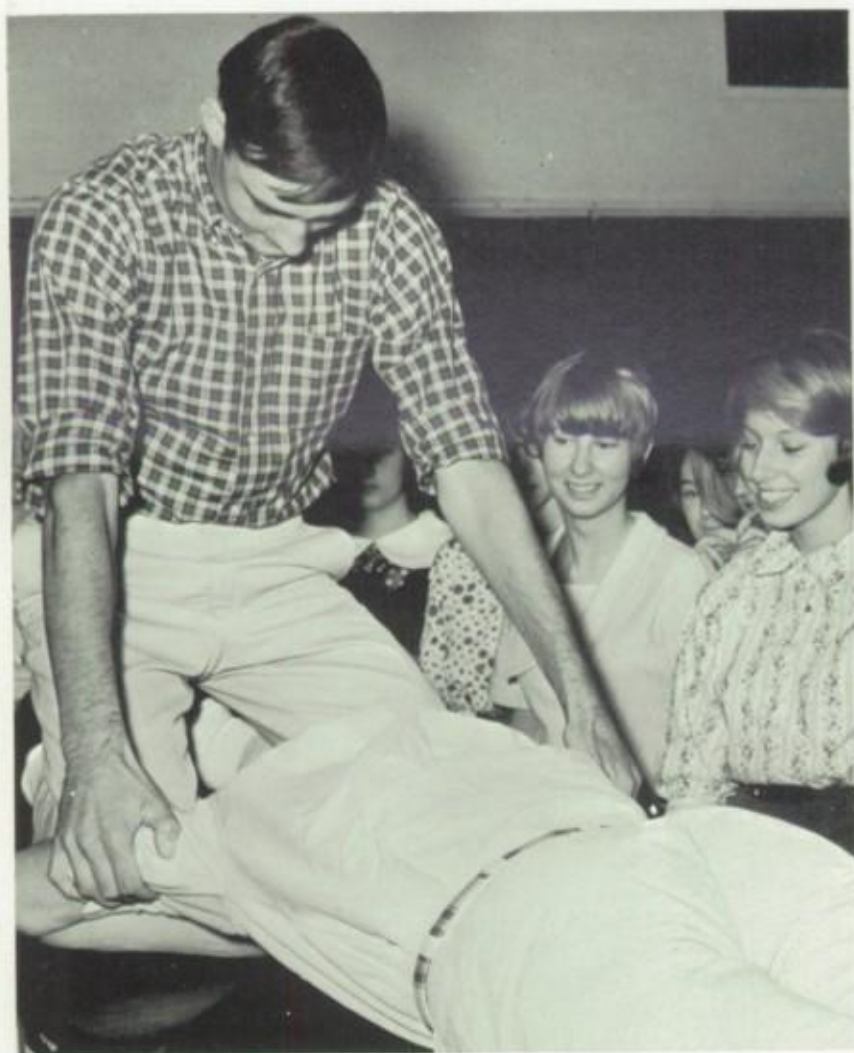

"Hey man! Watch the fingers!" Lloyd Bryant warns Larry Robinson.

Judy Auskings eyes the basket hoping for a two pointer.

Two girls jump for the ball at the beginning of a gym class.

Physical Education Stresses Development

This year the department continued to emphasize the physical and mental development of the student.

Highlight of the year was the third-day extension of physical education class.

Teaching health, Mrs. Auker added new strength to the department.

An intramural program was finally started for the boys while the GAA remained virtually non-existent.

The Man and the Myth

Guess what's on his mind?

Here he exhibits the serious side.

Odroneic A Go-Go.

The smiling man pictured here is considered by many as a clown and an intellect and a maniac and an excellent teacher. If two people meet him each has a different idea about him.

Concerning Publications, more people know of him and don't even realize what he looks like. It is in Publications where the puzzle ends and the kind-hearted genius appears.

In Publications he gathers a diversified group of students and turns out Jacket Journals, and Forums to a pace and amount never equaled in the history of our school.

He cohorts, praises, whines, innovates, laughs, produces, amazes, and educates in many ways.

Mr. Odroneic is a puzzle to some, but not to the Publication Staff.

Mr. Cassell laughs indebtedly.

Dave Wythe and Mr. Cassell seem to be compatible here!

Mr. Cassell pretends to be studious!

Financial Head of Forum

Assisting Mr. Odroneic in Publications is Mr. Arthur Cassell. Mr. Cassell is the father of three children and keeps busy by serving as chairman of the math department, instructing at the Newark Branch of Ohio State, teaching a course at Cooper-Bessemer, and serving as an Advanced Math teacher.

Having an equivalent of two Master's Degrees, Mr. Cassell's main responsibility towards Publications is handling subscriptions, bills, ads, financial arrangement for the Forum Show, and watering down some of Mr. Odroneic's ideas.

While in high school, this hometown boy was editor of the Jacket Journal.

Coping with sophomore class pictures.

This year the Forum Staff served as the Forum-Jacket Journal staff.

Since the Jacket Journal was abolished, then re-instated, members of the Forum staff also had key positions on the Jacket Journal.

As examples of dual roles Carolyn Vannatta was Student Advisor of the Forum and Managing Editor of the Jacket Journal and Dave Wiley was Business Manager of the Forum and Editor of the Jacket Journal.

This year's staff tried to put more emphasis on special areas of the book and instituted a broadening in the coverage of Homecoming, Forum Show, and athletics.

The Forum was not reduced in size though there were cutbacks in organizations, athletics, activities, and staff.

V e d e t t e

Many long and tiresome hours are spent by the Vedette staff in putting together Mount Vernon High School's literary magazine. The Vedette consists of short stories, essays, poems, photographs, and art work. The Vedette is published annually under the supervision of Mrs. Kathryn Dunham.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America had permission to reorganize the second semester and took on all chores in the spirit of the old organization.

Among various activities the club held teas, charity parties, dances, bake sales and an extensive orientation program for members.

Always stressing the ideas of a club existing in co-ordination with the ideals of the Home Economics program, the organization enjoyed a profitable year.

FHA OFFICERS—Tamara Koriduzki, Judy Anderson, Patsy Person, Linda Brown, Ruth Ann Wolfe, Peggy James, Ann Laraby.

Future Farmers of America

This year the Future Farmers of America furthered the cause of young men with the zeal for agriculture.

Highlights of the year include participation in various contests involving speeches and parliamentary procedure and the annual FFA banquet.

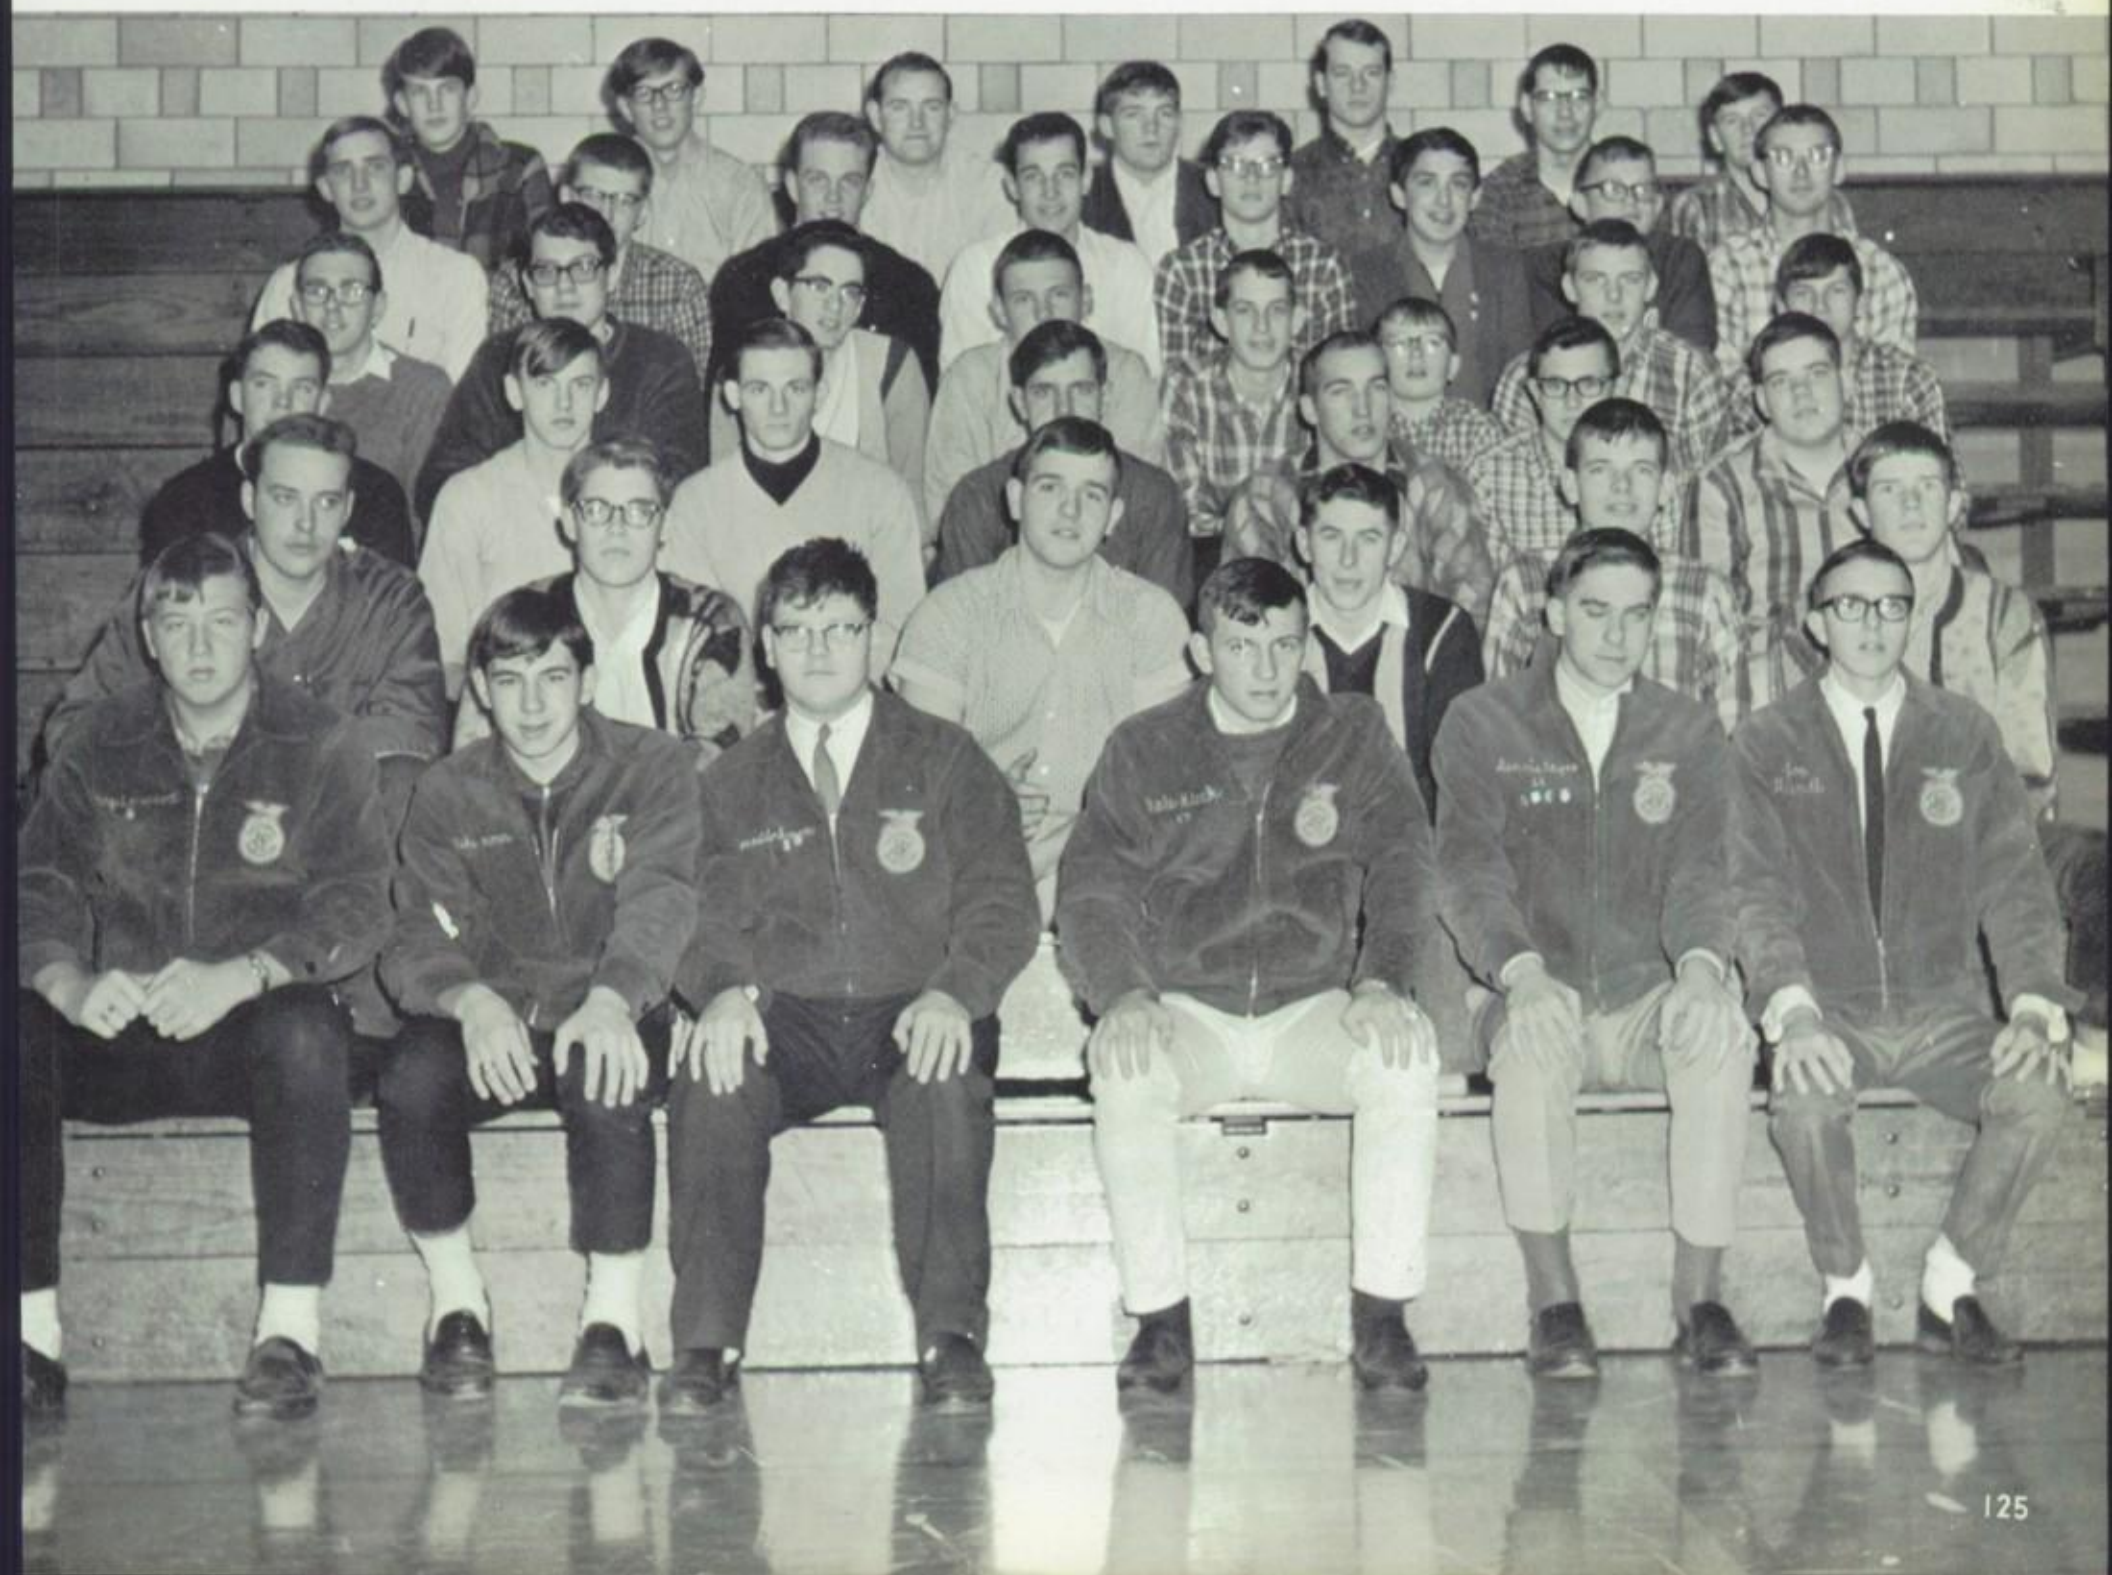

Special emphasis was placed on National FFA week with displays around the school and special radio announcements.

Future Farmers is a unique organization because it continues activities on a year-round basis even holding summer meetings.

Student Council worked in many areas this year with the most important being the sponsorship of Homecoming activities.

Always serving as a weathervane for student opinion, the Student Council started many innovations in the school life.

The advisor of the organization is Mr. Robert Thompson. Under his prodding the Student Curriculum Guide was revised.

Band Camp can be fun!

What did you put in your coke, Charlie?

The 1965 Marching Band was one of the hardest working and most determined in many years. As usual work began the last two weeks of August at Band Camp. After many hours of preparation, the half-time shows were very well accepted. Not only did the band perform at Mount Vernon football games, but they also journeyed to Gambier to participate in Kenyon's Homecoming activities. Also, the band takes part in many parades, and small groups provide spirit and enthusiasm at Pep Rallies.

The band performs intricate drills for half time.

The 1965-66 majorette squad under the leadership of head majorette Nancy Hite can add another successful year to their record. The girls spent many long hours during the summer and fall months working on their many routines and marches.

Drum Major Dick Antill was also an added attraction to the band. He won first prize at the New York World's Fair last summer.

Guidance Workers

The Guidance Helpers are always busy running errands. They spend much of their time filing, alphabetizing, and delivering pupil permits for guidance conferences. They are also carriers of permanent records to and from the main office. Aside from the humorous incidents which seem to occur in the guidance office, the girls think they gain valuable experience in public relations.

Attendance, and P.A. Speakers

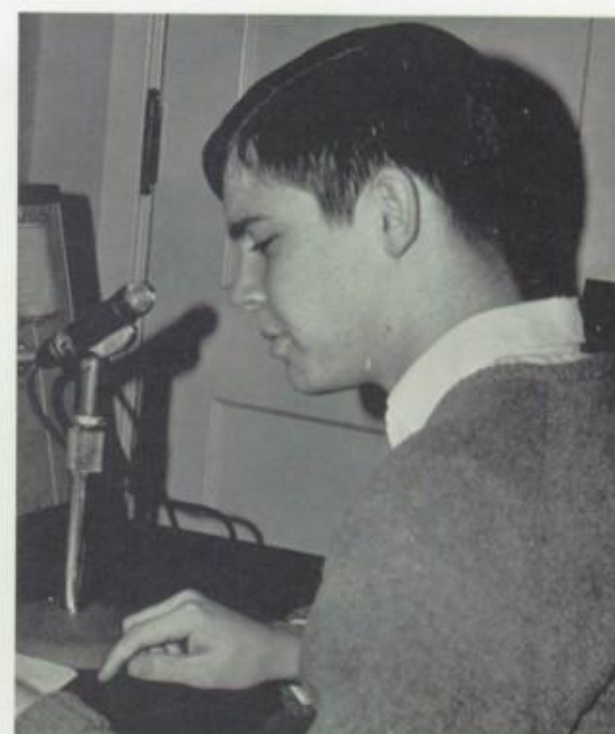

Mrs. Denman heads a crew of busy helpers. They gather attendance slips every period, record them on the daily attendance sheet, and check for possible cuts. The attendance office is always busy making out re-entry slips to class rooms.

The familiar voices we hear daily are the P. A. announcers. We would surely be lost without their reports of events.

Peggy collects attendance reports.

The photographers, Jim Mayer, Chris Mayer, Dave Wythe and Mike McCartney, take every picture for the Forum except for class pictures and some professional pictures of special events.

Capturing people at their best and worst, the photographers secured many memories for the high school students. This picture was set up by Janet Jacobs.

Mike McCartney and Dave Wythe were photographers for three years.

Continental Guest

This year our foreign exchange student was Claire Dumont from France.

Claire graduated from the equivalent of our American high school in France, and wanted to study in America a year before pursuing higher education in her homeland.

In France Claire lives with her family (one younger brother and sister) in the suburbs of Paris.

In America Claire lived with the John Fulleman family.

Studying speech, American history, English 11 and 12, Senior Social Studies, and Journalism, occupied her school day.

Claire busily gets her books from her locker.

Claire seems to be studying hard.

Claire is a fine example of France.

Our Junior Miss

Brenda Steinmetz was selected as the Knox County Junior Miss this year.

Chosen at the Thanksgiving pageant, Brenda defeated county competition and was awarded the title and a trip to Xenia for state competition.

She was cast in the roll of trail-blazer at the state competition since she was first to tryout in the categories of talent and interview.

Brenda descends the runway.

The Fighting Yellow Jackets of 1965 finished their season with a 5-5 record. The Yellow Jackets, plagued with injuries at key positions throughout the year and with an under-manned coaching staff, did not live up to their pre-season predictions. The Jackets met with unnecessary defeats in games with Coshocton and Whitehall. In their other three losses, they were soundly beaten by Upper Arlington, Worthington, and Ashland. The bright spots of the campaign were victories over Madison, Grandview, Bexley, Urbana, and the 50-0 Homecoming victory over Delaware.

Faced with the pre-season injury of three-year veteran Jim Byrd and handicapped by lack of height the 1965-66 Yellow Jacket Roundballers couldn't get started off on the right foot.

Starting out the season with a victory over Fredericktown the Jackets went on to lose six games by five points or less. As a result they suffered a mediocre 9-9 season.

Bright points of the season were a victory of 83-60 over the Worthington Cardinals and a 77-66 season finale over the Mansfield Rams.

from home. It doesn't cost much, and you can start and stop with a phone call during vacation periods. It's a wonderful way to keep track of former classmates.

A Final Look at a

Year to Remember

So ends the 1966 Forum, it was a delight putting it together for the students.

New ideas this year were in depth features on administration, sports, Homecoming, The Forum Show, and the Publication staff.

Other new ideas included the Guess Who features, autograph pages, time to autograph them, and a larger book.

Probably the only apology we can make is that some items were sacrificed in order to present an early product and provide better service.
